Evaluation with missing data

Webfigure 1 shows that the hazard ratio for OKT3 vs ATG useage and 95 % confidence intervals are nearly the same, when missing data are replaced by the median of the respective group.

Red lines indicated with "m" in the model name represent the models computed with data missing, black lines (without indication in model name) represent the hazard ratio and 95 % confidence interval when missing data are replaced.