

University of Zurich ^{UZH}

Faculty of Medicine
Faculty of Science

The University of Zurich invites applications for the following position, available starting 1. August 2019:

Tenure Track Assistant Professorship in Physiology

The professorship will be established at the Institute of Physiology of the University of Zurich (www.physiol.uzh.ch), which is affiliated with both the Faculty of Medicine and the Faculty of Science.

The successful candidate is a promising young scientist in the field of cell, organ or systems physiology. She/he should develop a strong research portfolio supported by competitive funding and strengthen or complement the existing research areas at the Institute by adding an additional research focus or methodological expertise.

The University of Zurich offers a competitive start-up package and a vibrant research and clinical environment with excellent opportunities for interdisciplinary collaborations. Commitment to excellent teaching in physiology to students of the Faculties of Medicine and Science is expected.

The University of Zurich is an equal opportunity employer. The Faculty of Medicine implements specific measures in the selection process to increase the proportion of women with a faculty position.
