The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology is currently divided into three clinical divisions: (i) Obstetrics and Feto-Maternal Medicine, (ii) General Gynecology and Gynecologic Oncology and (iii) Gynecologic Endocrinology and Reproductive Medicine. The successful applicant will be head of the Clinical Division of Obstetrics and Feto-Maternal Medicine.

Employment requirements:

1. Graduation in humane medicine with a subject specific doctorate or a corresponding foreign university degree in the relevant field of specialization;
2. Qualification as a specialist for Obstetrics and Gynecology or equivalent foreign authority;
3. Profound clinical and scientific qualification in the field of Obstetrics and feto-maternal medicine;
4. Evidence of the successful acquisition of competitive third-party funds;
5. Leadership and management experience, including gender and diversity competence, in particular regarding the leadership of a hospital section of the highest care level;
6. Experience in interdisciplinary cooperation in clinic and science;
7. Educational and didactic qualification;
8. International experience.

Expected from the applicant:

- Interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research in terms of promoting the research cluster described in the University's development plan;
- Contribution to the Perinatal Center within the Comprehensive Center Pediatrics in close collaboration with the Division of Neonatology, Intensive Care Medicine and Neuropediatrics of the Department of Pediatrics and Adolescent Medicine;
- Representation of the subject area in the medical curriculum aimed at integrative and practice oriented training;
- Competence in employee leadership and motivation;
- Continuation and optimization of the clinical services and procedures in cooperation with other disciplines and clinics as well as the management of the AKH Vienna;
- Commitment to quality outcome orientation and willingness to further enhance the personal management qualifications.

The MedUni Vienna aims to increase the proportion of women in executive positions and therefore expressly invites qualified female candidates to apply. In case of equivalent qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.
