EIT Health Innovation Days Austria Challenge I

sponsored by EIT Health Austria Partners:

Tapping the full potential of value-based healthcare for cardiovascular diseases

In this challenge, students will develop new strategies and approaches of value-based tele-healthcare (VBHC) for cardiovascular diseases (CVDs), such as the »Austrian HerzMobil« telehealth solution. We are inviting students to develop their own perspective on novel tele-healthcare products and solutions along the patient pathway suitable for VBHC stakeholders.

EIT Health Innovation Days Austria Challenge I

sponsored by EIT Health Austria Partner WILD Group:

The next innovative future healthcare device

In this challenge, students will develop new strategies and approaches for a novel future healthcare device. We are inviting students to develop their own perspective on the current and future needs of the European healthcare system within major healthcare segments, such as In-Vitro Diagnostics, Imaging, Intensive-Care and many more, thereby mapping promising technology approaches and developing suitable future devices and solutions along the patient pathway.
